The Utah Podiatric Medical Association is a professional association of podiatrists, and is affiliated with the American Podiatric Medical Association. The UPMA consists of licensed podiatric physicians who practice in the State of Utah. The UPMA works to provide podiatric physicians with the latest updates in medical science through regularly scheduled scientific seminars. Advocating good public health care policy, they also respond to the inquiries of patients, government, and others through various standing committees. Executive officers and committees work as representatives of the membership to further important issues related to foot and ankle care in order to benefit—and better serve—their patients.
